

ABSTRACT

An adhesive tape may include a tape body to be adhered to an adherend, a positioning tab positioned on one end periphery 4a of the tape body, and a release sheet provided on a rear side of the tape body. The positioning tab and the tape body are interconnected via a connecting portion that is positioned therebetween. The connecting portion is arranged and constructed to be removed.